International Viewpoint needs the support of its readers to keep going - and to improve what we do.

IV is the English language magazine of the Fourth International.

We aim to bring you an analysis of political developments, reports of struggles on the ground and the debates taking place within the movements for progressive change that our correspondents are involved in.

Some material is written directly for us but we also republish articles from our supporters across the world, as well as from other websites and publications working along similar lines. Some of these are written in English, others we translate.

From the outset International Viewpoint has counted on the support of its readers. You have been generous, last year you donated almost Â£4,200 which we very much appreciated. However most of this was in one-off donations while we desperately need a regular commitment so that we can plan our budget. Last year almost all of that sum arrived in the first part of the year, leaving us in difficulties at towards the end. So currently our coffers (or rather our bank accounts) are pretty empty.

Please help by following this link: Donate then enter an amount of your choice. One-off donations are very welcome.

But regular donations by standing order are also vital to our continuing functioning. You can set up a standing order to one of our bank accounts.
